TOP 10 REASONS TO JOIN CCMSA

(Reflections by Pam Tolan and Jessica Kartzinel Co-Membership chairs)
2010/2011

1. We're a really nice group of caring, supportive women, united through our spouses' profession in the medical field. (We're the nice sisters you always wish you had!)

2. If you have other interests such as reading books, playgroups for your children, dining at new restaurants, cooking, legislative, or fundraising...we have the perfect group for you, and we welcome your involvement.

3. You own a business or are a professional? PERFECT! Use us for networking – we'll be happy to support you!

4. If you're looking for great causes for charitable work, we need your help in the number of projects we're involved with - our legislative efforts, our annual spring fundraiser, our ongoing community health outreach or nursing scholarship campaigns – HELP!!!

5. Just need an excuse to have a nice lunch? Ever get tired of seeing the same familiar faces? We have women of all ages, backgrounds and interests. You'll meet someone new each time you participate. It's practically a guarantee!

6. You have great organizational skills and nowhere to practice them? We have a board position that's been just waiting for you to join and volunteer for. (How soon can you start?)

7. You're tired of hearing your spouse complain about the medical profession and the increasing pressures and lack of control about where it's heading? Well, so are we, so there's not much we can do about that, but ... see Reason # 1.

8. When you see an outfit you'd like to buy but think you'll have nowhere to wear it...that outfit will be perfect for our luncheons! (And...we'll tell you how great you look in it!)

9. You need to talk with other adult women who sometimes can be heard muttering, "For THIS I went to college?" Or, "I shaved my legs for THIS?" This is your group!

10. You are an interesting homebody, a professional, a FT mom, a physician, a nurse, a realtor, your husband's office manager...So are we! Come join us and start having fun!
